Once a Rotaractor, Always a Rotaractor

December 04, 2025

The Rotaract Alumni Get-Together at the Cosmopolitan Club, Anna Salai, Chennai, brought together leaders from RI Districts 323, 3230, 3232, 3233, and 3234 for an evening filled with nostalgia and connection. It was a celebration of Rotaract's journey across generations, marked by familiar faces, shared stories, and lasting bonds.

As alumni reminisced about their Rotaract days—projects, leadership lessons, and lifelong friendships—the evening became a walk down memory lane, highlighting how the organization has evolved while its core values remain unchanged.

The gathering concluded over dinner and warm conversations, reinforcing a timeless truth: Rotaract is not just a phase or position, but a lifelong connection that continues to unite generations.

Our Half-Yearly Review

didn't just review the past- it planned the future.

The GRM Presentations this year were conducted nearly two weeks ahead of the main GRM event, across December 6th, 7th, and 13th, introducing a more reflective and engaging format. Moving away from the traditional one-day, 3–5 minute presentations, the district created space for deeper discussions and meaningful learning.

Each club was given 20 minutes to present both their past six months' work and their plans for the next six months, allowing them to focus on challenges, learnings, and vision rather than just numbers. This ensured every club's journey was heard and understood in detail.

The sessions were guided by experienced panels led by DRR Rtr. PP. PHF. Sathish Kumar, DRRE Rtr. PP. PHF. Vignesh Chandran, and IPDRR Rtr. PP. PHF. Sasi Kumar, whose insights helped shape constructive, future-focused conversations.

With ample time for interaction, clubs received actionable feedback and mentorship, transforming presentations into collaborative growth discussions. Overall, this refreshed approach strengthened clarity, direction, and preparedness, making GRM a truly purposeful platform for reflection and forward planning.

A District in Full Colour:
Inside GRM Prism 2025

GRM Prism 2025, held on 21st December 2025, brought together over 900+ Rotaractors for a day that truly reflected the many shades of Rotaract. True to its name, Prism became a space where leadership, service, creativity, and celebration came together seamlessly. The energy in the room was infectious, setting the stage for an event that celebrated both the journey so far and the people who made it possible.

The event featured six-month presentations by all Group Rotaract Representatives (GRRs), each offering a snapshot of the initiatives, projects, and milestones achieved by their groups over the past half-year. These presentations highlighted the consistent efforts made across clubs to create meaningful impact, strengthen engagement, and explore innovative avenues of service. Alongside these presentations, the District Secretarial Team presented the district's half-yearly report, providing a broader overview of the district's progress and collective achievements.

Adding a vibrant touch to the day were the cultural performances by group members, which transformed the stage into a celebration of talent and teamwork. From high-energy dances to creative acts, each performance reflected the unique spirit of its group. The audience response was a testament to how these moments of expression brought everyone closer, reinforcing that Rotaract thrives not only on service but also on shared joy and camaraderie.

The valedictory session celebrated excellence in its many forms, with clubs being recognised for Outstanding Presentation, Outstanding Project, Rising Club Recognition, and Awards of Excellence. These honours applauded innovation, consistency, and dedication, recognising clubs that set benchmarks and inspired others through their work. Each award carried with it a sense of pride and motivation for the journey ahead.

One of the most meaningful moments of the event was the recognition of all GRRs, who received customised awards in appreciation of their leadership and year-long commitment. Tailored to reflect their individual contributions, these awards acknowledged the behind-the-scenes effort, coordination, and perseverance that often go unseen. The applause that followed each name was a heartfelt acknowledgement of their impact.

As the curtains closed on GRM Prism 2025, the event left behind more than photographs and trophies—it left renewed motivation and strengthened bonds. Prism served as a reminder of how far the group has come and the limitless possibilities that lie ahead. With memories made and inspiration renewed, the Rotaract journey continues, brighter and more purposeful than ever.

From the DRR's Desk

As we approach the close of this half-year, I am filled with pride and gratitude at all that our district has accomplished together. Congratulations to every club and member for completing half of their journey with such dedication and hard work. Your commitment has strengthened not only your individual clubs but the district as a whole. I also want to sincerely appreciate our district officials for their contributions, and all clubs for their continued support to the district. Special appreciation goes to our rising presidents and secretaries, whose energy and vision inspire us all to reach higher.

As we look ahead, I encourage everyone to focus on the 1:2:3 initiative, contribute further to the Rotary Foundation, complete all membership updates, and continue delivering quality projects, particularly in the International Service avenue. Focusing on these areas will help our district grow stronger, smarter, and more impactful, ensuring that we continue to serve with excellence and create meaningful change in our communities.

As we move forward into the second half of the year, let us carry the momentum, determination, and spirit of collaboration that have brought us this far. Every project completed, every challenge overcome, and every step taken together strengthens our district and reflects the true essence of Rotaract. Let us continue to innovate, support one another, and serve with passion, keeping our focus on making a tangible difference in our communities. Together, we can rise above expectations, overcome every challenge, and achieve even greater heights in the months to come.

Yours in Rotaract

This edition celebrates those achievements and reminds us that every effort, no matter how small, contributes to a larger purpose. Let us carry forward this energy, continue striving for excellence, and keep making a difference—together, we rise stronger with every step we take.
